IN BRIEF

This large plot of flat, constructible land, consisting of 3 smaller plots, would be perfect for a large single dwelling or several smaller properties. Situated on the outskirts of a popular village, the land is within walking distance of local amenities. Planning permission had previously been granted for a large family home and the foundations have been laid and construction work started for the walls before the project was put on hold. However, this permission, or permission for smaller properties, would have to be regained as it has now expired. Plans for the property for which planning permission was previously granted are available for clients interested in the land.
